BUYING REINDEER.

Uncle Sam Is Collecting Some in Alaska for Use in Alaska.
Uncle Sam has gone somewhat extensively into the business of buying reindeer, and the first consignment is now in San Francisco, very much the worse for wear. The animals have been here for three weeks, and are second of the kind ever brought to the city. Some time ago two were obtained for Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, but one has since died.

The animals were bought by the government agent, E. Bruce, in Siberia. The purpose of the purchase is to introduce the reindeer in Alaska, where they will be used instead of dogs. It is impossible to use horses, and dogs do not serve the purpose as well as they might.

Some time ago there was a season of the greatest distress among the Esquimos in Alaska. The report of it led to a congressional investigation and the appropriation of several thousand dollars, part of which was to buy reindeer in Siberia and have them brought to Alaska. An agent was dispatched to Siberia, and his first consignment is now stationed in San Francisco in a lot adjacent to the Lick paths.

The animals will be used to great advantage at the North. They are small but very swift and powerful in Siberia they cost $5 apiece. The natives have a peculiar way of harnessing and driving the animals. The harness is simply a band over the shoulders and between the legs. The deer is fastened to the center and left of the seat, but not to the right. It is steered by the horns and covers the ground as rapidly as a good horse.

TOO MUCH FOR THE THIEF.

A Stealthy Servant Who Kept Her Eyes on a Strange Visitor.
The other day a man of gentlemanly appearance called at a house in a well-known suburb of New York. In answer to his knock the housemaid came to the door.

"Is Mr. P—— in?" said the gentleman.
"He's just gone out, sir."
"Is Mrs. P—— at home?"

"No, sir; she went out with master."
"Dear me, how unfortunate I wanted particularly to see one of them. Can I leave a note?"

"Oh yes, sir. Come in please," replied the girl, ushering the visitor into the dining room. But instead of leaving him alone she rang for another servant, whom she desired to bring writing materials.

The gentleman wrote his note, inclosed it in an envelope, addressed it and left it on the table. This being done he departed with a profusion of thanks to the maid, who escorted him to the door. On returning home Mr. P—— found the note awaiting him. It ran thus:

"Your servant is no fool!"

The compliment was fully justified by a paragraph in the next day's paper, giving an account of the plunders of a neighboring mansion by a similar visitor.

Internal Revenue Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee met yesterday to receive from the sub-committee the completed internal revenue bill, including the income tax proposition. The advocates of the tax had a majority of one in the committee. Mr. McMillan submitted a draft of the bill, which is still in the hands of the committee, further action having been postponed until to-morrow in order that it might be considered by a full representation of the Democratic members. It is believed the internal revenue measure will be sent to the house as an independent bill.

WHITE REPUBLICANS.

They Form a Separate Organization in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 11.—A conference of representative Republicans for the purpose of formulating plans for the coming state election will be held this afternoon. It has been called by what is known as the white Republican element, who are opposed to the tripartite coalition of boltites, Populists and Republicans against the Democracy. It is proposed to keep up the state organization, and to nominate state and congressional tickets.

The leaders of the movement say that the white Republicans are strong enough to carry several districts if the balloting is fairly counted, and the Populists and boltites have expressed their determination that the next election will be fair.

Resolutions will be submitted disowning Chairman Mosley of the Republicans for his efforts to turn the strength of the party to bolt for government offices.

A SCANDALOUS INTRIGUE

is What the Random Fast Calls Our Historical Relations.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Post commenting on the financial situation says: Probably there is no country in the world that would be as well off as the United States, if the inhabitants would learn the primary elements of economic organization.

Referring to Hawaii, the Post says that it would be difficult to find in the annals of the middle ages a more scandalous record of intrigue than in the history of the Republican dealings with this Pacific community.

Very old monarchies, according to tradition, have indulged in frivolous amusements when the well-being of state was in danger. But it is a long time since the world has seen anything so fantastic in the history of a Democratic people as the contrast between the poverty and financial disaster at home, and the first foundations of a maritime empire as proposed by Mr. Ladd's resolution suggesting the establishment by the United States of a protectorate over the Hawaiian Islands.

Impressed By Fire.

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Jan. 11.—Late night fire broke out in the hoisting works of the Idaho-Maryland mine, toppling over seventy-eight miners 2,000 feet below the surface. The widest excitement prevails throughout the town. The miners quickly escaped by climbing 2,000 feet up a perpendicular air shaft. Two hours had elapsed before the last man reached the surface, and the men were almost exhausted. The loss to the miners had exceeded $100,000, the total revenues of the government.

Both Legs Cut Off.
WELLSVILLE, Kan., Jan. 11.—Charles Bennett, the famous catcher of the Boston champion baseball club, will never appear on the diamond as a player again. His brilliant career came to an inglorious end last night in this city. He now lies at the Santa Fe hospital at Ottawa with both legs cut off—the result of having been run over by a Santa Fe passenger train at this place. He suffered intense agony.

Church Elections at War.

ABILENE, Kan., Jan. 10.—At Elmo, in south Dickinson county, two factions of the United Brethren had been struggling for the possession of the church building. Last night a party hitched teams to the edifice and started to haul it away. The other hurried to Abilene for an injunction. The building was in the middle of the road when the sheriff arrived. A tug of war is anticipated.

Iron Thunder Killed.

POST FALLS, N. D., Jan. 11.—An Indian runner from White Blackbird's camp, reports the murder of Iron Thunder, who as courier made the daring ride of twenty-two miles directly through Sitting Bull's hordes, making possible the union of the police and successful issue of the conflict in which Sitting Bull was killed three years ago.

A Blackfoot deaf and dumb son of White Blackbird, crept into the tepee where Iron Thunder, his wife and child were sleeping, and crushed his skull with an ax. The nearest policemen, Maggie, Eagle and Fast Horse, attempted to capture the murderer, who violently resisted arrest, and was injured before being overcome, that he died shortly thereafter. There seems little doubt that the murder was the deed of a maniac.

A Food of Extinction.

SALVATORE, Mexico, Jan. 11.—At Cuatro Lagos, as the result of an old feud between the Velasco and Panjora families, during which the heads of the two families and three Velasco and two Panjora sons have been killed, the six remaining members met and a revolver duel was fought resulting in the killing of two on each side and the serious wounding of the others.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 11.—Frank Joyce and Tim Crow met at Park City yesterday morning and Joyce opened fire on Crow, mistaking him for a man against whom he had a grudge. Crow responded promptly, and a number of shots were fired. Joyce was fatally wounded in the abdomen. Crow was shot in the breast and leg. The men were strangers.

And cordially recommend Hood's Saraparilla to all suffering with indigestion, impure blood, humors, loss of appetite or run down. It will surely help you if there is any help for you. I have used it myself and in my family for at least fifteen years. I have found it of great benefit for infants, children and fever, rheumatism, etc. I consider it incurable.
